

School Supply List for Fourth Grade

Welcome to Fourth Grade! We're glad to have you at LCS. Please see

<http://misscrachi.com/back.html#supplies> for pictures and clarification on some items. The Amazon list for this is here: <http://a.co/3sSaCKY> so you can see the items and order ones you want. You don't have to get the ones on that list, but it gives you an idea of what to order.

-2 boxes of facial tissues (unscented)

-2 bags of individually-wrapped candy (ex: Blow pops, Jolly Ranchers, Airheads, Dum-Dum pops, Smarties, etc.): can get at the Dollar Store

-a water bottle that completely closes (one with a straw that closes, please, because it's easy for spills to occur)

-roll-on deodorant (to be left in your cubby or backpack to use after gym)

-healthy snack for each day (one item: fruit, veggies, crackers and cheese, pretzels, popcorn)

Academic: Please put your name on everything possible.

- One 2-inch 3-ring binder (any color) (must fit 3 folders, pencil pouch, the school-provided planner, and the math notebook)
- Zippered pencil case that goes in a binder – for pencils, red pens, eraser, scissors, glue sticks, colored pencils, ear buds, permanent marker (the case goes in the front of the binder)
- A LOT of #2 pencils, sharpened (I suggest mechanical pencils)
- small pencil sharpener with a shavings catcher (for the colored pencils; make sure it screws shut so it doesn't spill)
- large eraser, red pens or pencils, a black permanent marker (fine tip), scissors (small but with pointed blades so they cut well; make sure the scissors are small enough to fit into the pencil case)
- 1 pack of colored pencils (an 8-pack is fine)
- many glue sticks (Elmer's extra strength permanent bond is best; don't get washable because it doesn't work well; we use these for our notebooks in almost every subject almost every day, so you'll need a lot)

- 6 folders with side pockets and 3 hole-punched: Please get one of each of these colors: red, orange, yellow, green, blue, and one unique one (can be anything, but not one of those colors). Some go into the binder in this order and label them: Home/School (the unique one: label one side "Goes Home" and the other half "Goes to School"), math (green: label the left side "math work (hw, corrections)" and the right side "corrections done"), language arts (blue). The next folders need to be labeled but don't go in the binder: science (red), social studies (orange), and "Stays in School" (yellow).
- 1 green college-ruled, 3-hole-punched notebook: label it Math and number it like the other notebooks (see below; this goes in the binder after the green Math folder)
- 1 pack of 8.5x11" college-ruled lined paper (please use regular paper, not paper torn from a notebook since that creates a mess; put this into the binder behind the folders)
- 3 marble composition notebooks, college-ruled, 100 sheets (200 pages); 3 different colors if possible- if you can't get these specific colors, please get black; label one for science and social studies (red or orange), one for Bible (purple), and one for language arts (blue). Please number the science/SS and Bible notebook pages, with number one being the first page in the upper right corner, 2 being the second page in the upper left corner, etc., with odd in the upper right and even in the upper left. (Don't number language arts.)
- Spiral bound sketch book: 8-1/2" x 11" or 9" x 12", 70# weight for art class
- 12-inch ruler with metric on one edge, inches on the other (don't get one that bends because it will quickly become inaccurate; make sure the inch side has lines of various sizes- see misscrachi.com)
- a Bible (you don't need to buy a new one, but if you need to get one, please get one without tabs and with a concordance in the back if possible- the NIV Adventure Bible that many students have is a good one)
- a small Merriam-Webster dictionary (to keep in your desk: Webster's New World Dictionary is recommended)
- 3x5 index cards with lines on one side and the other side blank
- 5 mini binder clips (one each for the planner, Bible notebook, and math notebook and two for the science/social studies notebook)
